4 UPDATES ON MAIN PARTNERSHIP THEMES AND OTHER RELEVANT COUNCIL INITIATIVES:

Members of the Partnership gave an update around progress across the main themes of the Partnership.

a TOWN CENTRES DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMME UPDATE

Kevin Munnely, LBB Head of Renewal provided an update on Town Centre Development across the borough.

Progress was continuing across the sites that made up the Bromley Town Centre Area Action Plan. The Public Realm Improvement Scheme in Bromley town centre was into its final phase of works between Marks and Spencer and Metro Bank. The market stalls would be relocated from the following week, and the whole scheme was due to be completed by the end of November 2018, ready for the Christmas trading period.

As of Friday 20th July 2018, the London Borough of Bromley was consulting on a draft masterplan to support the development of a large site in Bromley town centre, which extended along the west side of the High Street from Bromley South station to the Churchill Theatre in the north. Members of the Partnership were encouraged to respond to the masterplan proposals which, once finalised, were expected to guide development on the site over the next 15 to 20 years. Full details of the proposals were available on the Council's website www.bromley.gov.uk/Masterplan.

The six-week consultation would end on 31st August 2018, following which the responses would be analysed and reported back to the council's Development Control Committee and Executive for their consideration.

As part of a Growth Fund initiative, work was underway to improve broadband and connectivity around the Borough, including providing free Wi-Fi in town centres and industrial estates. Bids to deliver the project were currently being evaluated, and an update would be provided to the next meeting of the Bromley Economic Partnership.

Gary Hillman, Managing Director – N. Hillman & Sons, informed members that the company had successfully acquired The Royal Bell, 173-177 High Street, Bromley. A planning application had recently been submitted with proposals to develop a 5 star, 50-bed hotel to include a gym and pool in the basement, and restaurant and bar on the ground floor. It was hoped that as well as hosting weddings and events, local community groups would have the opportunity to use the function space and facilities.

RESOLVED that the update on the town centres development programme be noted.

b LOCAL PLAN DEVELOPMENT UPDATE

Katie Ryde, LBB Planner, provided a written update informing members that the Draft Local Plan was still at the Examination stage. The Council was currently consulting on Main Modifications which had been agreed by the Council's Executive earlier in the year. When the consultation finished on the 10th August 2018, any responses would be sent to the Inspector for her consideration. The Inspector would take account of these in finalising her report, which the Council would then consider. There was no fixed timescale, but it was hoped that the Plan would be adopted in Autumn 2018.

RESOLVED that the update on the Local Plan be noted.

c TOWN CENTRE MANAGEMENT AND BUSINESS SUPPORT UPDATE

Lorraine McQuillan, LBB Town Centre Manager reported that the recent ballot to establish the Beckenham and Penge Business Improvement Districts had been successful, and it was expected that a BID Manager would be in post by September 2018. Work was also continuing on the Local Parades Improvement initiative, with further applications being received.

RESOLVED that the recent work around the Business Improvement Districts and Business Support in the 1st quarter of 2018/19 be noted.

Mr Michael Humphries, Handelsbanken informed members that the banking industry continued to be buoyant.

Mr Lee Thomas, Fairlight Group said that the letting of serviced office space continued to be going well, and a new 9,000 sq. ft. space would be opening in October 2018. It was suggested that a Town Centre Forum could be established for some 'blue-sky thinking', looking forward ten to fifteen years and consider what would be required in town centres.

Mr Alex Henderson, Henderson Biomedical advised members that the manufacturing operation of the company had recently been sold, but the servicing side continued to perform well. The servicing company had now employed some of the manufacturing staff members, and the manufacturing space had been successfully rented. Mr Henderson notified members of a European Union funded initiative called the Building Legacies Fund, to which his company had recently signed up. It offered access to free workshops and business support, and further information could be obtained from <https://buildinglegacies.co.uk/>.

Mr Chandra Sharma attended the meeting representing the Federation of Small Businesses (FSB). Mr Sharma informed members that part of his role was to provide networking events and lobby Government on behalf of small businesses, and work would continue to support business hubs.

The latest Masthead publication had recently been dispatched, and Ms McIntosh highlighted a feature on page 8, regarding The Royal Bell acquisition by N. Hillman & Sons.

These included a big screen showing the Wimbledon tennis tournament, and a free screening of the film Mamma Mia! The promotion of the film screening had been carried out via social media and 350 tickets had been sold. Residents had requested more of these types of events, which highlighted that the public space was for the whole community. Work had continued with the Bromley Dementia Support Hub during Dementia Action Week, and a number of events had taken place in the town centre helping to raise dementia awareness and make Orpington an inclusive town.

Ms Frances Forrest, Your Bromley BID Company provided members with the Bromley Official Guide, and advised them to contact her if they required additional copies. The Travelodge hotel had recently opened on Elmfield Road, and other stores due to open shortly were Lidl, on the site that previously housed British Home Stores, and Robert Dyas. Members were informed of a three-day film festival that would take place in the Queen's Gardens during the 16th-18th August 2018. The film screenings would be free, and any money paid to hire deck chairs would be donated to charity.

A number of new retailers would be opening very soon, including Jack Wills, Orangetheory Gym and David Clulow Opticians. It was hoped a further four or five retailers would be in location before Christmas. The Plan G initiative, which provided an additional calendar of events, had launched and was going well.
